NEW STAR IN BETHEL SKIES THURSDAY NIGHT

PHENOMENON ATTRACTS MUCH ATTENTION AND WONDERING SPECULATION

Against lowering clouds, Thursday evening, observers were surprised to see a star shine forth, each ray as clear as on the clearest night. Going straight ahead, from the railroad station the star was just overhead. And from Skillingston the same perspective was gained. Not until the star was changed to the figures 1932 did people know that the phenomenon was under human control.

Our local mechanical genius, Ray Crockett, experimenting with slides in a movie projector, achieved a distance of approximately 2000 feet straight into the air, using an arc light of sixty amps. But to discover the cause of star and figures one had to be right in front of the garage on Lower Church Street. To others the star appeared as a natural manifestation of nature.

BURBANK COTTAGE AT LOCKE MILLS BURNED

ONE OF FINEST COTTAGES ON THE PONDS TOTALLY CONSUMED BY FIRE SUNDAY

The cottage owned by Paul Burbank of Berlin, N. H., situated between South and Round Ponds was totally destroyed by fire between five and six o'clock Sunday afternoon. The owners of the place had been there during the day getting things in readiness for winter, and had left a little while before the fire was discovered. The cottage was built by Ed Rowe of New York, a native of Woodstock, some twenty years ago, and was one of the best places on the shores of the ponds in that vicinity.

SUBSCRIBER LAUDS PRESIDENT'S SPEECHES

MAINTAINING LEVEL "EAR ABOVE PETTY PARTY POLITICS"

President Hoover has been making magnificent masterly speeches. With each, one wonders if so high a level can be reached and sustained in another.

The world knew him as a great humanitarian. As he breaks his long, patient silence and reveals and defends the history of his administration during these years of depression—a world wide depression, the inevitable aftermath of a Titanic war—he is shown as a great statesman. A gallant fighter—who scorns to hit below the belt—fighting such grim battles as no president except Washington and Lincoln ever fought. And without the elan and excitement of war.

He closed his Detroit speech with noble sentences far removed from the realm of petty party politics. An old subscriber requests the Citizen to publish them, as leading papers throughout the world are doing, in order that attention may be focused upon them.

"The future of individuals is of no great importance in the life stream of the nation. No one of us has the right to stand in the light of the nation's progress. Change in my personal position from command to the ranks is of trifling importance in the life of this nation. What is of vast importance is the measures and policies you adopt by your vote, and the men and the forces which front and behind the scenes will dominate our national life."

"I am anxious to see that these present sound policies and measures shall be continued only because I am anxious to see that my country shall come safely into the harbor from the dangers that but few men occupying my responsibilities will ever appreciate. Following will the wisps is not progressive. That is not being liberal. Rather it is driving slowly to the tyranny which means the extinction under bureaucracy of liberty and hope and opportunity."

"In conclusion, I declare again that it is the high resolve of my administration, it is the historic determination of the Republican party, to preserve that nation for our children with its American system of free trade, its American free opportunity, and its equal opportunity, moving ever forward in the light of these principles. Its American government forever in the land men who believe that our future is in the hands of the people, who strove with brain and brawn to win this the greatest land that ever man loved."

WHAT ONE EDITOR THINKS OF NORMAN THOMAS, SOCIALIST

After listening to the political speeches of Messrs. Hoover, Roosevelt, Coolidge and Smith, it is easy to understand why a good many thinking people favor Norman Thomas. That young man is short on hot air and promises but long on ordinary horse sense. He doesn't spout beer or throw bouquets but, knowing his chances of election are negligible, he dares to talk about the real issues which appear to be slightly belated in the minds of the major candidates. Four years hence Mr. Thomas may be more than an also ran.

GOULD AND WILTON BATTLE SCORELESS TIE

NORRIS BROWN SUFFERS INJURY THAT WILL KEEP HIM OUT OF GAME REST OF SEASON

In a game filled with thrills, Gould Academy and Wilton battled for four periods to end 0-0. Gould had difficulty stopping Wilton's long end runs, while the up-staters could not stop the short end running of the fleet-footed "Blue and Gold" backfield. Lane played his best game of the year weaving through a strong Wilton defense for many long gains. A number of times it looked as though he would break away for a touchdown. The line plunging of Norris Brown, as well as his strong defense work, was outstanding. He was severely injured in the final quarter and will not be able to play again this year. Charlie Dwyer proved himself a defensive star in this game as he was able to knife himself through the big Wilton line to throw the ball carriers for a number of losses.

Gould lost a fine opportunity to score when the ball was on the opponents six yard line with third down and two and one-half yards to go when the ball was fumbled to be recovered by Wilton. The Wilton's greatest threat came in the final quarter after the team was somewhat disrupted by the injury of Brown. However, the team repulsed this last minute attack to keep their goal line unbreached.

BUSINESS IS GOOD IN BETHEL'S MILLS

STOWELL-MACGREGOR CORP. AND H. F. THURSTON WORKING TO CAPACITY

At the local mill of the Stowell-MacGregor Corp., the business is running. The spool machines are running at full capacity, from 6:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., continuously. It is expected that work will continue as good for the remainder of the year. One of the Dixfield mills of the same company is running two shifts.

The mill of H. F. Thurston & Son is another busy place, there being enough work orders to keep the mill running full time until the middle of January at least. Part of the activity at this plant is due to the manufacture of the Maine Log Cabin lumber. Another invention of Hugh Thurston.

HERE AND THERE IN MAINE

Lester Smyth of Temple was accidentally shot in the back of his head by Eben Merchant in the woods near his home Friday. Merchant, who was hunting, saw a stir in the bushes and fired. Smyth is in the hospital.

A Florida man who was arrested and convicted in Maine for driving without a license has taken his case to the U. S. Supreme Court. Florida doesn't require drivers' licenses. The question as to whether Maine has a right to deny motorists from certain States, which do not require drivers' licenses, the right to drive will be answered by the Supreme Court if present proceedings in the case are carried out.

The Commerce Department figures show that Maine had eight more licensed pilots on Oct. 1 than on that date last year. Private licenses were issued to 31 Maine pilots last year and to 28 this year. The State has also reported one glider.

Among the 12 students in the American College at Rome who are to be ordained as priests Sunday, will be Leo White of Portland.

A newly repaired barn and shed at Anson which contained $800 worth of farming tools, 60 hens and one cow was destroyed by fire Tuesday. The property was owned by Frank Riddon. The loss of about $2,500 is covered by insurance.

During the period between July 1 and Sept. 1, 1932, out of state automobiles visited Maine. Visitors to Acadia National Park for the summer season were 237,504, a gain of 7,275 over last year's season.

Governor Gardner issued statements Friday that Oct. 27 is observed as Navy Day, and Nov. 7-13 as American Education Week.

Governor Gardner last week made the estimate that Maine will lose $1,400,000 in revenue in the current fiscal year. The chief shrinkage is in the railroad and corporation taxes and corporation changes.

WEST PARIS

An event which is causing a great deal of interest is the drama, "And Mary Did," to be presented by the students of West Paris High School, Friday, October 28, at West Paris Grange Hall. Curtain at 8:15.

Harvest Sunday was observed at the Universalist Church, Sunday, October 16. The Pastor, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes, spoke from the text, "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

It being National Temperance Sunday, the text was appropriate to both subjects. The altar was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and fruits. Music was rendered by a chorus of girls. Seven visitors were present from New Gloucester and two from Bingham.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bernaski, who went to New Jersey recently expecting to make their home there, decided to return and are with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Patch.

Mrs. Mary Bacon has been quite ill the past week, and her daughter, Mrs. Luella Procter, of South Paris, has been with her.

George Buck, who is still at the hospital in Lewiston, had an ill turn last week but is reported more comfortable.

Mrs. Clara Riddon celebrated her 81st birthday Saturday, October 15, and was generously remembered by relatives and friends. She was surprised and pleased when several friends called and presented her in behalf of her neighbors on the street, a nice electric toaster. Mrs. Riddon's years have set very lightly on her, and she is still very active.

Nathan Small is at the Central Maine General Hospital recovering from an operation for hernia.

The Good Will Society met with Mrs. Clara Dunham Wednesday. There was a very large attendance and plans were formulated for the annual chicken pie supper on Wednesday of the week previous to Thanksgiving.

Miss Glendine Ring was a recent guest of Miss Lola Frost at Mechanic Falls.

Joe Penley was at home from the University of Maine over the week end of the 15th.

The Bates Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. E. D. Curtis, Pioneer Street, Friday afternoon. An enjoyable afternoon was spent in the study of the books of Robert Louis Stevenson. Mrs. Ethel Kay was a guest. The club will meet with Mrs. H. R. Tuell, on November 4th.

PERKINS VALLEY, WOODSTOCK

Mrs. A. M. Silver is in West Paris caring for Mrs. Wallace Russell and baby girl.

Bernal Thurlow got his ear quite badly injured while yarding in the woods. A stick flew, striking him and some lodged in the ear. The men that were working with him removed quite a splinter. Mr. Thurlow hasn't been able to hear with ear since and it pains him quite badly.

The men of the neighborhood are busy cutting and hauling the lumber and getting it sawed for the new school building. There will soon be a full force of workers. C. J. Perham will superintend the construction.

Joe Roberts has left Nelson Perham's and has been placed in the home of Joe Barrett.

Mrs. Nelson Perham and Mrs. Bernal Thurlow called on Ida Allen in Bryant Pond Saturday afternoon.

Sunday callers at Nelson Perham's were C. J. Perham and wife of Bryant Pond and Everett Wilson and family of North Leeds.

Charles Silver and wife, Mrs. A. M. Silver, and Abner Benson were recent guests of relatives in Saco.

Mrs. Winnie Thurlow of Pigeon Hill is visiting in the neighborhood a few days.

Alva Hendrickson is hauling grain to Portland for J. B. Ham Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudley and Fred Dudley of Mechanic Falls called to see their sister, Etta Dudley, Sunday.

Men, women, children, Farm Bureau members and non-members are urged to come. The meeting is sponsored by the Extension Service and everyone in the county is invited. Women, be sure to bring your husbands, fathers and brothers. Men, bring your wives and sweethearts.

Maybe it is man power not money which is needed to do away with the backache caused by working at a sink which is too low.

Speakers: Miss Edna Cobb, State Home Management Specialist; Cleoson Turner, Agricultural Engineer;
Don Ridley, County Agent. Miss Ada
Brewster, Home Demonstration Agent will officially open the Kitchen Improvement contest.

Remember the date—November 2,
and the place—Bethel Grange Hall.
Come everyone!

FORESTRY WORK PROGRESSES

Farm woodlots keep right on growing in spite of the depression, and most of them can profitably use all the spare time the owner has available. Weeding, thinning, selective cutting and pruning—all have a definite place in the proper management of a woodlot.

This week, six additional woodlot demonstration plots will be added to the seventeen now underway. Forestry specialist, Albert D. Nutting, will accompany the county agent in this work and have scheduled a series of meetings. Notice is being sent to those located in communities where meetings are to be held. Those who are able to be present will find it profitable.

THE FINGER! In and Around Bethel Gordon E. Lathrop

We're Done It!

Recently a post commended us to seek something to praise in Bethel instead of hunting things to censure. We looked at the multi-colored hills, filled ourself with their beauty, and found our vocabulary inadequate. We stood upon a hilltop and followed the silvery line of the river through the valley, and still we were speechless. Then someone told us how the corporation was furnishing the light, gratis, for the local pinocchio game. At last we had found it! The town should be commended for furnishing such an enterprise. But when we paid a dollar for corporation tax we were told it was for street lights and fire protection. The collector forgot to inform us that we were also fostering a social insurrection!

A Warning

The break at Gunther's Overnight Camps last week should serve as a warning to all owners of summer cottages, camps and homes now uncared for to redouble their safeguards against breaking and entering. When possible it is wisest to remove all the things of any value whatsoever. Directly induced by a financial depression has enlarged the field of larceny from those things of unusual value, easily carried, such as jewelry, plate and money, to any of the numerous articles needed to furnish a home. Leaving camps and furnishings easy of access only increases the temptation to loot them whether they be the really needy, or the unscrupulous opportunists.

An Idea For The Town

The other day I had a moonlight stroll, and saw a man up in the corner of the town's bright boys, beside the girls go gaga might get together and like a team puts up for an evening. Frate parents, in search of their wandering children, would then only have to step down Church Street, ask Ray to haul in the moon, and then in its place, put a card reading "darling daughter that it is" and the moon would go right on helping the other youngsters make dampheads of themselves.

An Improvement

The lower end of the common, after appearing as a desert all summer, is now being planted to shrubbery. We might suggest that when the shrubbery is planted, the common be planted to a camera placed in an adjacent tree. Then if the camera who reported the evergreen tree should continue his deprecation, we would have a picture for the town. The camera might also be placed in a tree, and then if the camera who reported the evergreen tree should continue his deprecation, we would have a picture for the town.

Did You Have A Ticket?

CHURCH ACTIVITIES

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

L. A. Edwards, Pastor
9:30 Church School. Miss Ida Packard, Superintendent.
11:00 Morning Worship. The Pastor's subject will be "The fine art of being kind."

A man may be kind without being a Christian, but he can't be a Christian without displaying that grace.

It's a serious indictment against many a professed follower of the Master that this trait or art is so often undeveloped.

"A single rose given amidst life's stress and trials is worth a thousand wreaths of flowers laid upon the casket of a man who died discouraged and broken-hearted."

In view of the fact that so many of our members will be away over the week end it has seemed wise to omit the meeting of the Comrades of the Way.

7:15 Choir practice. It is gratifying to find such a generous response from the young people last Sunday evening, to the pastor's appeal for singers. This is something that our young people can do and we feel sure that it will be greatly appreciated by the members of our congregation.
